Having been appointed agent for the above Company, I respectfully call the attention of the citizens of this section of North Carolina, to the fact that this is a Southern Company with an authorized Capital of $500,000. It's business is ably conducted, by influential, reliable and wealthy citizens of Tennessee.

It has the finest references, and has always been exceedingly prompt in its payments, as can be shown by its records, being sustained by wealthy gentlemen.

It takes both Life and Fire risks on terms as low as any Eastern Company.

This Company is just being introduced into its sister State and I hope it will be well patronized.

Let us support and encourage each other and keep all our money at home.

No one is obliged now to go North to get himself or his property insured, as he can be accommodated here by a company of greatest reliability.

Republican Government.

Our Radical friends are hard pressed for terms to express their ideas. Our vocabulary must undergo a transformation as to the meaning of words, or our nomenclature must receive large additions, to correspond with new terms and significations put to them by the Radicals.

First, they propose, in reconstructing the Southern States, to give them Republican forms of government, as Congress is pledged to guarantee such to them. What is a Republican form of government? Our best lexicographers define it to be "a State in which the exercise of the sovereign power is lodged in representatives elected by the people." Do not all the Southern States possess such a Republican form? Did North Carolina have a Republican form of government before the war? Her present form is identical with that. But, secondly, it is said they must have loyal governments! A loyal government is a misnomer. But perhaps it is meant loyal persons to administer them. What is it to be loyal? Our lexicographers define it to be "fidelity to a prince or sovereign or government." Are not our people faithful to the government? Wherein are they not faithful? Do they not observe their oaths of office? Are they not faithful to the Constitution of the United States? But, more recently, the Radicals talk of giving North Carolina loyal civil government. What can Congress give us in these respects that we have not? Can it give us better men, wiser men? Can it give us more loyal men? Where are they? Are such men as Pool and Holden, and Taylord and Harris, and their colored friends, wiser and better and more loyal? Surely the Radicals are the men, and wisdom will die with them!

North Carolina Slandered in Congress.

The following report of Mr. Stevens' action in Congress, on Tuesday, contains so bare-faced a slander upon the people of North Carolina, that common justice demands its correction.—We copy from the report of the Associated Press:

"Stevens called up and introduced an amendment to the bill to provide legal governments for the South, providing no person shall be deprived of the right to vote by reason of conviction or punishment for treason, or misprisonment thereof.

He stated that he offered the amendment because he had been reliably informed that North Carolina and other States anticipated the passage of the bill, and that the people were preferring charges and having negroes whipped in order that they might be disqualified.

The amendment was ordered to be printed and the bill was further postponed."

Some days ago, we noticed and contradicted this statement made by the Washington Chronicle, based upon a letter written from this place. We again pronounce the statement upon which Mr. Stevens make the remark, "the people were preferring charges and having negroes whipped, in order that they might be disqualified," wholly without foundation, so far as we can learn.—White persons and negroes, without distinction, by the laws of North Carolina, are punished with whipping at the public whipping post, for grand and petit larceny. These laws are nearly as old here as the State itself. We deny that any person, black or white, has been thus whipped, except for crimes, for which he was duly convicted. We deny palpably and challenge contradiction, that any person, black or white, has been whipped in this State, for the purpose of degrading the person or rendering him disqualified for voting.

Loyalty.

It is now plain, that, in the vocabulary of the Radicals, North and South, loyalty means a full endorsement of the political opinions, motives and designs of the Radical party, without regard to the Constitution of the United States and the time-honored constructions of that instrument. Nay more; it demands the warm approval of, and a strong affection for, the Radicals, as their best friends and the only friends of the government, on the part of the entire Southern people. If there are a tithe of the Southern people, who do not, in word, thought and deed, do all this, the whole of the Southern people are disloyal, except the few Southern loyalists and the blacks. Reverence for the government, admiration of the Constitution, a quiet obedience to the laws, and a willing support of the government, are "but as sounding brass and tinkling cymbal," compared to that loyalty which is required of us.

Our Radical friends are evidently mistaken. The rule which they wish to enforce for loyalty is nothing less than the Divine rule of charity, "which hopeth all things and is kind," but which, unfortunately, they know nothing of themselves.

Visit of Ex-Secretary Harlan to Charleston, South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, Jan'y 6.—Ex-Secretary Harlan, who has been here for a few days past, left for Washington last night. It is reliably stated that his visit here was for the purpose of organizing a Union party, who will petition Congress for a loyal State government. He had interviews with several Unionists, and an effort will be made to form Union leagues and obtain signatures.

The same plan is being resorted to in this State, of forming Union leagues, composed of whites and blacks alike.

The most amusing part of the matter is, that those who are chiefly at work in using the negroes now, are men who, a few years ago, were for dissolving the Union because of the effort, on the part of the Republican party, to question the divine right of slavery, and to prohibit its existence in the territories! So we go.

ENLARGEMENT.—We are in daily expectation of new material and fixtures. It is our purpose, in a few days, to enlarge and otherwise improve the appearance of the Sentinel. This will enable us to present to our patrons a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter.

Holden After March 4, 1864.

"I, A. B., do solemnly swear on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, that on the 4th day of March, 1864, and at all times thereafter, I would willingly have complied with the requirements of the Proclamation of the President of the United States, issued on the 8th day of December, 1863, had a safe opportunity of so doing been allowed; and that on the said 4th of March, 1864, and all times thereafter, I was opposed to the continuance of the rebellion, and to the establishment of the so-called Confederate Government, and voluntarily gave no aid and comfort thereto, but earnestly desired the success of the Union and the suppression of armed resistance to the Government of the United States; and that I will henceforth faithfully support the Constitution of the United States and the Union of the States thereunder."

—Pool-Holden Test Oath.

[From the Standard of Aug. 17, 1864.

* * * "With regard to the prosecution of the war and negotiations for peace, my views have undergone no change. It is not true that I have counseled the withdrawal of North Carolina from the Confederacy, or the submission of the State to federal authority, or the reconstruction of the federal Union. On the contrary, I have uniformly maintained, as I do now, THAT THE WAR MUST BE PROSECUTED in self-defence."

And this was nearly six months after the day fixed upon by Messrs. Holden and Pool as that upon which their unconditional Unionism and excessive loyalty commenced! Won't Uncle Thad. open his eyes, when he sees this? He is said to be a profane and naughty old gentleman, but we are not responsible for what he may say.

[From the Standard of August 31, 1864.

"The news is not so cheering as we could desire, but let us hope that the indomitable valor of our troops, and the skill and mercy of our Generals, may very soon gain some signal advantages, and thus turn the tide which seems to be setting against us in the neighborhood of Petersburg."

"Not so cheering as we could desire." Why the test-oath says that you must have earnestly "desired the success of the Union and the suppression of armed resistance," &c. And here you are hoping that the "armed resistance" will "gain some signal advantage!"

[From the Standard of August 31, 1864.

"The Democratic National Convention of the United States assembled at Chicago, on the 29th. We entertain but little hope from the action of this body. It will no doubt take ground in favor of peace, but it will be peace based on a restoration of the Union."

[From the Standard of Aug. 31, 1864.

"PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.—It will be seen by the Proclamation of Gov. Vance, in our paper today, that that functionary, responding to the late appeal of Gen. Lee to deserters, and to the general public wish, as expressed in the newspapers of the State, has issued an urgent call to deserters and absentees from the army to return to their post, and has enjoined it as a duty on the entire body of the militia to exercise the utmost vigilance in ridding the State of deserters. We trust this call will be heeded. * * * It is due to the character of the State, to the Confederate service, and to many of our citizens who have been injured by these deserters from other States, as well as from our own State, that they should be banished from our midst and returned to their duty. Let those of our citizens, who belong to the militia or home guard, and who, have been thus far exempted from active service in the Confederate army, in consideration of the important duties they are expected to perform at home, at once respond to the order of the Governor, and execute it faithfully, and the evil complained of will soon cease to exist."

This will do for one day. How terribly, since the surrender, the Standard has berated Zeb. Vance and the "Davis Despotism" for forcing poor fellows into the field, to be mangled and killed; and here it is, in the closing months of the war, the most clamorous of them all for hurrying men to the front!

Mr. Holden shouldn't have kept company with Pool. The latter has got him into a bad fix. We believe he only did it to "embarrass" him.

N. C. COMMISSIONERS.—The Standard is not a little bothered at the recent appointment of Commissioners to Washington. It is strongly of opinion that Col. Bedford Brown will not accept of the position. We have the happiness to inform the Standard that Hon. Bedford Brown, true to North Carolina as he has always been, promptly accepted the position, and is now in Washington.

All the gentlemen appointed by Gov. Worth have doubtless accepted the position, except Hon. Jno. A. Gilmer, who would gladly have served the State in that capacity, but who felt obliged to decline, yielding to the earnest expostulations of his physician in view of his health. Recently, Gov. Worth has appointed Hon. Lewis Hanes to fill the place of Mr. Gilmer.

THAD. STEVENS LOSING GROUND IN THE HOUSE.—The passage of arms between Messrs. Thad. Stevens and Judge Spalding on the subject of the Constitutional amendment excites much comment to day, and much admiration of the tone and temper of Judge Spalding on the occasion is manifested. The opinion gains ground that the dictatorial sway of the old Pennsylvanian will not be submitted to much longer. If he is transferred to the Senate there will be more independent thought and action in the House.—Washington Chronicle N. Y. Herald Jan. 6th.

MONUMENT TO PETER FRANCISCO.—A movement was made in the House of Delegates on Saturday towards the erection of a suitable monument over the grave of this remarkable Virginia rebel. For long years the spot where he lies buried has been allowed to lie neglected—so the time will come when to Virginia's later dead will be paid the honor due them by the mother for whom they fell.

General Sterling Price was quite a lion among the people during his recent stay in New Orleans. The hotels were thrown open to him, important positions were tendered him, and a tract of land containing six hundred acres, in Texas, was presented to him. He was also offered his choice of the river steamers to convey him and his family up the Missouri. The Government was informed of his return to the country, but no action has yet been taken in his case.

A poor little girl in the Fourth Ward, New York, as she was dying said "she was glad she was going to die, because now her brothers and sisters would have enough to eat."

The supposed murderers of Mr. Hardison have been arrested, as the Newbern Commercial informs us.

For the Sentinel.

The Paris Exhibition—Splendid Contribution from North Carolina.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—One good, at least, will result from the mission of the "unmistakables" to Washington City. All must be appropriately paid for their personal sacrifices in the great act of State slaughter. Jeames Fontleroy Taylord is to have his, as well as the rest. But Jeames is more modest than some of his compeers. He only asks, as satisfactory compensation for the part he took in cobbling up the admirable Pool-Holden Bill, that he shall receive the appointment of government agent for the Judicial District of North Carolina at the World's Fair, soon to be held at Paris. It is a happy idea, and Jeames' plan is admirable.—Only let our amiable friend, who is great in Bug-ology, the manufacture of capons, and French delicacies generally, exhibit his usual taste and judgment in this glorious enterprise, and all will be O. K.

What genius but Jeames's could have hit on a scheme so well calculated to exhibit to an admiring world the great capabilities of a State which he loves so well, that he is willing to devote his best energies to the task of lifting her up from being a simple State into a magnificent Judicial District! Go on Jeames! Perge quo cepisti. "Proceed on with your proceedances," and you will be covered all over with glory, and so will be this Judicial District.

Voila! his scheme: He proposes, having induced our precious X. P. G., in the same old coat, turned again with the blue side out, all buttoned up before with large brass buttons, trowsers of same color, very amplitudinous to be sure against mortifying accidents, a cocked beaver, pinched together at the top and surmounted, a gaudie, with a black ostrich plume; thus accoutred, to box him in a latticed cage of significant brass and carry him over the water. There is to be attached to the most conspicuous part of his person a certificate, by the "glorious old patriot," in embossed golden letters, that this wonderful specimen of North Carolina improvement was, in 1844, "the worst looking man in Raleigh," with a countenance more expressive of a disposition to "take things without leave" than any man he had met with since he left Tennessee," but that, by twenty years' practice of the graces and humanities, the kind feelings, dispositions and sympathies by which man is distinguished from the lower order of animals, he at last attained the highest position, and became the honored Governor of North Carolina, once a State, so-called, now a spavined Judicial District.

As everything in Paris is nought without a cortege, Jeames has secured the heraldic services of Beau Hickman, who has consented to act in this capacity, and to exhibit our X. P. G. to the best possible advantage. He is to read aloud in French, Choctaw, and unmistaka de English, the certificate of "the glorious old patriot," and improvise eulogies of his own, with that volubility and truth for which the Beau is so eminently distinguished. The herald also proposes to cause the article exhibited to speak eloquent extracts from the Standard, before and during the war, and then similar elegant extracts published since, to show to an admiring world how easily oil and water are made to commingle in this wonderful Judicial Circuit. The herald also engages that the multifarious X. P. G. shall sing, by way of divertisement, his charming song called the "Southern Cross," in which John C. Calhoun is admitted to glory in a splendid apotheosis. The Beau says that, if he should manifest any reluctance to speak or sing as required, he will give him a few gentle punches with his sharp-pointed *gold*en rod, and that, so excited, he can be made to say or sing almost anything.

Success to our gentle Jeames, to the exquisite Beau, and, above all, to the astonishing man whom they go to exhibit! May they find plenty of fish over the water, achieve multitudinous honors, and return at last in safety to the bereaved hearts and expectant arms of this great people, having escaped the lamentable fate of the three lost babes in the wood! Selah!

[From our Telegram of yesterday.]

Letter from Forney in 1865.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.

The Republican, of this morning, publishes the following:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7th, 1865.

His Excellency, ANDREW JOHNSON:

My Dear Governor:—I cannot too heartily thank you for your letter, dated Nashville, Dec. 30th, 1864, received Wednesday evening. There is not a word or sentence in the article from the Nashville Times, which you enclose, that does not meet my warmest approbation. I have read and re-read your letter, and it, and have shown both to several intimate friends. I hope soon to be able to endorse both in my two newspapers, the Chronicle and the Press.

After a pretty thorough canvass, I think the Senators and Representatives from Louisiana will be admitted. And if this is so, it is easy to anticipate that those of Tennessee will also be received. The only person that I find opposed to your theory, and who is now hesitating as to the true course to be pursued, in reference to the admission of Louisiana, is Mr. Sumner, of Massachusetts. He may probably be followed by Wade, Wilkinson, Chandler and a few more. But Senator Wilson, of Mass., is open and determined in his course, and I think he will carry with him a number.

The attempt to embarrass the admission of such States as Tennessee, after having gone through such suffering as yours, and all having reorganized their States from the very foundation of principle and law, would be a sad proceeding.

The fact is, my dear Governor, we cannot resist peace, should the Southern people lay down their arms, and demand to come back into the Union, under the terms of the amnesty proclamation, agreeing to the abolition of slavery, by the amendment of the Constitution, and consenting to the restoration of the old Union. Any party that opposes such an appeal would come to confusion. Nor can we attempt to embarrass such questions as those presented in the Constitutions of Louisiana and Tennessee, by legislation on the subject of negro suffrage.—Because that question belongs to the States, and it will look very odd, if the legislators from the free States should endeavor to confer the right of suffrage upon the as yet illiterate negroes, just delivered from slavery in the South, when, in nearly all the free States, the negroes are wholly disfranchised.

I feel in high hope that the course of the people of Savannah, which you have by this time seen, in coming forward voluntarily and heartily agreeing to the terms offered by the government, will be followed in other quarters, and that we are, in fact, about to realize the beginning of the end of the rebellion.

We are looking for you here with much interest. Your presence and your counsel are needed.

Yours truly,

(Signed) J. W. FORNEY.

A farmer saw an advertised receipt to prevent wells and cistern from freezing. He sent his money and received this for an answer: "Take in your well or cistern on cold nights, and keep it by the fire."

New Year's Day at the South.

It is difficult to believe that any person can honestly go with the Radical leaders in their thousand times reiterated assertion, that the Southern States are not fit to receive their rights under the Constitution, because they are filled with hatred both against the Union and against the "freedmen."

The telegrams which yesterday reached us from all parts of the South, in regard to the celebration of New Year's day, must, of themselves suffice, to make every really candid person, every person who frankly seeks to know the truth, pause and think twice before he accepts such statements as that the lives of the freedmen would not be safe in the South were the South represented in Congress under the forms of the Constitution. These telegrams describe to us a series of negro festivals held in all the leading cities of the South on New Year's day. In Richmond, in Louisville, in New Orleans, in Charleston, in Augusta, the emancipated negroes paraded the public streets in organized bodies, often accompanied with military music, and in some cases under the leadership of armed men brandishing swords. At Richmond, one of these processions brought up in the Capitol square, where it was harangued for an hour by one of the stipendiary Torch and Turpentine Tramps, Hunnicutt.

This individual filled his mouth with tar and set it on fire with his tongue. He vomited forth volleying flame and pitchy smoke, invoking a servile war against the whites of the South, denouncing the President of the United States as a traitor to liberty, and generally stirring up all that is worst and meanest in the passions of his hearers. It is impossible that there should be two opinions among reasonable men as to the indecency and positive scandal of such performances. That the negroes should desire to celebrate the anniversary of their emancipation is natural enough. No one can blame them for so doing. But to celebrate this anniversary with a simulated pomp of war, and to make it the occasion of hot and incendiary addresses, directly designed to array the black race against the white, is a public crime. Nobody who understands anything of human nature could have been astonished if such demonstrations had provoked counter-demonstrations on the part of the whites; and, if there had been the slightest vestige of truth in the representations which the Radicals are perpetually making of the condition and the temper of the South, such counter demonstrations must infallibly have occurred. But nothing of the sort came to pass. The sons of Africa, went through with their jubilee unassailed and undisturbed. Hunnicutt roared himself hoarse from the steps of the Capitol at Richmond, without receiving so much as a single egg to clear his voice withal. If the celebration of New Year's day at the South proves anything at all, it proves that freedom of incendiary speech is more absolute in the rebel State of South Carolina to day than is freedom to worship God in the loyal State of Missouri. In Missouri, under a Radical Governor, ministers of the gospel who essay to break the bread of life to their people without permission of the powers that be, are daily seized, fined, imprisoned, or driven into exile. In South Carolina, the men who three years ago were slaveholders and rebels can see the streets filled with defiant processions of liberated slaves, under the flag of the Union, without lifting a finger or uttering, so far as appears, an angry word. And yet, we are coolly invited to treat the despotic Radicals of Missouri as the elect of liberty, and the law-abiding ex-rebels of South Carolina as unworthy of self government.—N. Y. World.

Impeachment of the President.

The following is the preamble and resolution of Ashley, of Ohio, adopted on Monday by a vote of 108 to 38:

"I do impeach Andrew Johnson, Vice President and acting President of the United States, of high crimes and misdemeanors. I charge him with the usurpation of power in violation of law, in that he has corruptly used the appointing power; in that he has corruptly used the pardoning power; in that he has corruptly used the veto power; in that he has corruptly disposed of the public property of the United States; in that he has corruptly interfered in elections; and committed acts, and conspired with others to commit acts, which, in contemplation of the Constitution, are high crimes and misdemeanors; therefore, be it Resolved, That the Committee on the Judiciary be, and they are hereby authorized to inquire into the official conduct of Andrew Johnson, Vice-President of the United States, discharging the powers and duties of the office of President of the United States, and to report to the House whether, in their opinion, the said Andrew Johnson, while in said office, has been guilty of acts which were designed or calculated to overthrow, subvert, or corrupt the Government of the United States or any department or any office thereof; and whether the said Andrew Johnson has been guilty of any act, or has conspired with others to do acts which, in contemplation of the Constitution, are high crimes and misdemeanors, requiring the interposition of the constitutional power of the House; and that the said committee have power to send for persons and papers, and to administer the customary oath to witnesses."

Forney says the committee is of the "right sort" and will enter at once and with energy upon the work assigned.

The Washington Republican makes light of the movement, and says:

A member of the United States House of Representatives, who a few years since was charged with corruptly using his office as a member of the Committee of Territories, arose in his place yesterday and presented "articles of impeachment" against Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, for corruptly using his office. It appears by our report that the Committee on the Judicary is "authorized" to investigate the subject. Why did not this Teritorial-Surveyor-General-Ashley, who offered this bill of indictment against Mr. Johnson, provide that the committee should be instructed, a term usually employed by honest men, engaged in a work of Christian patriotism, and not use the weak, unmeaning word "authorized," which, to a congressional committee, is just what they may choose to interpret it? Let us have no mockery! If Congress means to enter upon the grave work of impeachment, let the trial proceed with some degree of respectability and dignity, and then the people will understand that their Representatives are in earnest. If Congress does not mean impeachment, but is engaged in a work of buncombe, announce the fact, and no longer paralyze the whole business of the country. Andrew Johnson is ready for trial.

A crazy old fool named A. Wilson, from Illinois, became so excited against a fellow passenger named Brown, on a steamboat at Memphis on Saturday, because Brown wore a suit of gray clothes, that he got a gun and shot at him, the ball missing Brown, however, and taking effect in the head of a Mr. Lankford, of Atlanta, killing him instantly. Several shots were fired at the mad man, and he was finally mortally wounded. Lankford served in the Federal army.

The Massachusetts State Prison at Charlestown was last year managed at a profit to the State of $820 20. The aggregate number of inmate was 626.

[From the Vicksburg Herald.]

The letter of Gov. Swain, of North Carolina, to Gov. Perry, of South Carolina, which we published yesterday, has attracted attention both North and South, no less on account of the solidity of its reasoning than the classical finish of its style. The New Orleans Times says it is the production of one of the great men of a State, which, though it has never been solicitous of notoriety, has produced some of the very best statesmen in the Union, and which is not deficient in men of equal calibre and brilliancy at the present time, though rather restive, it must be confessed, under the pressure of political troubles which have lately embarrassed the free action of each and all of our Southern States.

Says the Times: North Carolina, it seems, embracing high-minded gentlemen of all parties, is indignant at the proposition, and regards it tantamount to an application made by Congress to degrade and make themselves outcasts—to dishonor themselves deliberately by their own acts. If the amendment prevails, and is ratified by the State, Gov. Swain insists, that not only will all her trustworthy citizens be disfranchised, but it will be impossible for her to find, within her entire borders, any decent man to send to Congress, or to fill any office of trust or profit. Congress, in its intolerable severity, would put all good men, all respectable, influential representatives of the popular will, throughout the Southern States, under the ban. They are quite indisposed, it seems, to acknowledge as such, many men of the most incorruptible principles and highest sense of honor in these States. They wish, themselves, to monopolize all the virtue, integrity, honor, and patriotism, that are to be found in the country. We are not surprised that so much arrogance and pretension should draw down upon them the biting sarcasm of our most gifted men, who, though they may have differed with them on questions of national right and policy, are not yet thoroughly bereft of reason and a knowledge of gentlemanly decorum.

Messrs. K. P. Battle, Jas. M. Towles, W. J. W. Crowder, C. W. D. Hutchings, Jno. M. Jones, John Devereux, B. F. Mitchell, Robt. Murphy, D. E. Young, Dr. W. H. McKee, A. W. Steele, D. C. Murray, G. H. The Directors are instructed to take such steps as may be necessary to settle the questions in regard to the liabilities of the members and of the Company, and to enforce the payment of assessments and settle its losses.

Appeal in Behalf of the Hollywood Memorial Bazaar.

I have received the following circular, with the request that I should bring the object of it, as prominently as possible, before the people of this portion of North Carolina. I know that the generosity of our good citizens (reduced, as they have been in their fortunes, by the calamities of war) has been sorely taxed, and if I believed it possible for them to be weary of well-doing, I should hesitate about making this appeal. But I feel confident that the men and women of the South have solemnly resolved, next to the support of their own families, and the shielding from want the wounded, widowed and orphaned of those who composed our Southern armies,—to make it the duty of their lives to rescue from oblivion and desecration the bodies of those noble soldiers who gave up their lives in defence of our beloved but "lost cause." I therefore make this application with the full assurance that it will meet with an earnest, hearty and substantial response—the more so, in view of the fact that North Carolina has more patriotic dead on the soil of Virginia than any other Southern State.

Contributions of money, fancy articles, agricultural productions, manufactures, &c., are solicited from all portions of the State. Those forwarded from the counties east of the county of Orange will be received by me here to be sent to Richmond; those from counties west of Orange, including that county, will be received by Mrs. Thomas Dewey, of Charlotte.

NANNIE DAVES,
Agent of Hollywood Memorial Association for the Eastern portion of North Carolina.

CIRCULAR OF THE HOLLYWOOD MEMORIAL BAZAAR ASSOCIATION.—The Ladies of the Hollywood Memorial Association propose holding a Bazaar in Richmond, Va., in February next, for the purpose of raising funds to enable them to carry out their plans in care of the Confederate dead. It is their wish that each of the late Confederate States, with Maryland, should be represented in this Bazaar, as the Association is interested equally in all the deceased soldiers of the South, from whatever State they may have come, who are buried at Hollywood.

An agent or agents will be appointed in each State, who will notify the public of that State of their readiness to receive contributions of money, or of articles that may be disposed of at the Bazaar.

It is hoped that in this undertaking, which appeals so touchingly to the ladies of the South, and those who sympathize with them, there will be manifested a becoming enthusiasm, and that the Bazaar will illustrate how nobly these States can emulate each other in love and good works on this occasion of so much interest to all.

A LESSON ON TRUST.—Some time ago a boy was discovered in the streets, evidently bright and intelligent, but sick. A man who had the feeling of kindness strongly developed, went to ask what he was doing there.

"Waiting for God to come for me," he said.

"What do you mean?" said the gentleman, touched by the pathetic tone of the answer, and the condition of the boy in whose eye and flushed face he saw the evidence of fever.

"God sent for mother, and father, and little brother," said he, "and took them away up in the sky; and mother told me when she was sick, that God would care for me. I have no home, nobody to give me anything, and so I came out here, and have been looking so long in the sky for God to come and take care of me, as mother said he would. He will come, won't he? Mother never told me a lie.'.

"Yes, my lad," said the gentleman, evercome with emotion. "He has sent me to take care of you."

You should have seen his eyes flash, and the smile of triumph break over his face, as he said: "Mother never told a lie, sir; but you have been so long on the way."

What a lesson of trust, and how this incident shows the effect of never deceiving children with tales!

Butler is arguing the "Gray Jacket cases" in the Supreme Court. It is to be hoped his arguments will be more convincing than his "arguments" with Gray Jackets during the war.—World.

THE FOLLOWING exquisite Poem, which we have the pleasure of giving for first appearance in print, is from the pen of our gifted townsman, THEO. H. HILL. It is seldom that a fugitive piece of such rare beauty graces the columns of a newspaper, and the little gem merits, and should have, a more enduring setting.—In touching simplicity, in tenderness of feeling, and in the unaffected display of pure and chastened emotion, we do not hesitate to express the opinion that this memorial effusion is superior to any Poem of its class with which we are acquainted; and its sweet, sad theme is one that has tuned many a lyre.

We do not pretend to be a connoisseur in the poetic art. Judged by the rules which pertain appropriately to it, (if, indeed, it can be fettered by formal rules,) Mr. Hill has received the imprimatur of those who are every way competent to pronounce a critical decision. Our test of genuine poetry, as of music, is its effect upon the feelings, and Mr. Hill has written but little that does not sustain that criterion. Certainly the beautiful Poem, which we subjoin, has the charm in its fullest extent. Few can read it, we are sure, without a silent tear,—which is, after all, the highest tribute and the sincerest praise that could possibly be bestowed.

Mr. Hill is destined, if his undoubted genius is fully cultivated and encouraged, to take a very high stand among American Poets.

WILLIE:

BORN JANUARY 16TH, 1863. DIED JUNE 24TH, 1865.

"God's finger touched him, and he slept."
[IN MEMORIAM.

I

THE THINGS he used to play with
Lie in the corner there;
And yonder hangs the worsted cap
That he was wont to wear;
Beneath his dimpled chin I see
Its crimson tassels tied,
And clasp once more with fond caress
Our "little boy that died."

II

I hear the restless rosy feet
That patter on the stair,
And now he runs to Mamma's seat
To nestle fondly there:
He climbs upon my knee again,
Or, on my foot astride,
I toss the darling of my heart
Who clamors for a ride.

III

The labor of the day is done:—
Home to a glowing hearth,
I hasten, ere the set of sun,
The happiest man on earth:
A mother, standing at the door,
Looks out, adown the street,
Elate with joy, as runs her boy—
His father now to greet.

IV

Ah, then right merrily we romp!
And noisy is our glee,
For each, to please the household pet,
Must horse or driver be:
He brings "his blocks," and begs Papa,
"A church" for him to rear,
But knocks the fabric down before
The steeple can appear.

V

His marbles next, and then his ball,
Till, weary of our play,
He sups on Mother's lap, and folds
His little hands to pray:
And "Now I lay me down to sleep"—
That immemorial prayer—
In faltering phrases soft and sweet,
Makes musical the air.

VI

He sleeps: the fire is burning low,
And shadows on the wall,
Like those he wondered at and feared,
Grotesquely rise and fall:
Night—rayless night—o'erwhelms my soul,
And yet, in my despair,
I sometimes almost smile to think
There is no shadow there!

VII

'Tis Summer-time again, and I
Sit mournfully for hours,
And watch the painted butterflies
That woo his favorite flowers;
They hover unmolested here,
Yet—dreaming of the chase—
I see the hunter's flashing eyes—
His flushed and eager face!

VIII

How oft I've seen the jocund boy
Return from garden-play,
His Summer-hat of plaited straw
With larkspur blossoms gay;
The hand that decked it thus need not
Renew the garland now,
For seraphim and cherubim
Twine amaranth for his brow!

IX

Strange silence broods o'er all the house
From dawn to close of day;
The little drummer beats no more
Tattoo or Reveille;
His feathered cap, and plaided cloak,
And broken drum remain,—
But he who wore them once may meet
Come back to us again.

X

It almost breaks my heart to see
The dog he daily fed,
Crouch at my feet and mutely ask
The living for the dead:
I cannot harshly drive him out,
Though keener grief than mine
Bursts forth afresh each time she hears
His wistful—piteous whine.

XI

"But wouldst thou call him back to earth
Have him again to wear
The crimson-tasselled worsted cap
Upon his golden hair?
Wouldst have thine angel lay aside
His diadem of light—
Change crown for cross, and blindly grope
Beside thee, through the night?"

XII

"Ask me no more:" for flesh is weak:
Our idol was a part
Of every earth-born hope that blessed
Mine, and his Mother's heart!
"Ask me no more:" help us, O God;
This bitter loss to bear—
To kiss THY chastening rod, and live
To find "our treasure," there!

* "Ask me no more, lest I should bid him live:
Ask me no more."

Our Thursday Morning Dispatches.

Pardons.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9, P. M.

The President sent to the House of Representatives, to-day, a partial list of the persons pardoned, containing all of the more prominent in each of the Southern States.

(The list is furnished by the telegraph, but, as we note several inaccuracies in that for North Carolina, and presume that those of the other States are equally incorrect, we prefer to receive them in some other form before publishing.)

There are many conflicting statements regarding the President's determination in the matter of pardons. Nothing definite can be learned, but it is asserted, on good authority, that several pardons (among the number that of Gov. Letcher, of Virginia,) have been sent to the Attorney General's office to be put in proper shape before being returned from the State Department. They were endorsed too late. It seems that pardons previous to conviction will be discontinued for the present.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9, P. M.

HOUSE.—The Secretary of the Interior was directed to report how eight thousand negroes, living with the Cherokee and Choctaw Indians, can have their rights as citizens defined.

Maynard, of Tenn., introduced a resolution, modifying the one directing the Committee on Claims to refuse hearing the claims of citizens of the late rebel States, so as to secure a hearing for loyal claimants from loyal Tennessee. Objection being made, the same lies over.

The proceedings of the morning were almost strictly of a local character.

SENATE.—Petitions received from various portions of Virginia, asking impartial suffrage; also a petition signed by 260 Boston negroes against the admission of Nebraska with the word "white" in her Constitution.

The Nebraska Bill was taken up, and passed, with an amendment imposing it as a condition that no distinction be made on account of color. Vote 24 to 15.

Colorado admitted with the same proviso,—23 to 11.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.

At a late Cabinet meeting, the Territorializing question came up informally. All the members of the Cabinet, including Stanton, expressed opposition to any disturbance of the present State governments.

A canvass of the Senate indicates the passage of the Bankrupt Bill, which passed the House last session.

The investigations of the Judiciary Committee on Ashley's impeachment resolution are to be kept secret until the report is presented to the House.

The nays on the Nebraska admission were Messrs. Buckalew, Cowan, Dixon, Doolittle, Foster, Grimes, Hendricks, Howe, Johnson, Morgan, Nesmith, Norton, Patterson, Riddle and Saulsbury. Absent, Messrs. Brown, Davis, Frelinghuysen, Guthrie, Harris, McDougal, Nye, Ramsey, Sprague, Turnbull, Wilson and Yates. Edwards' amendment to the Bill, prohibiting any restriction of franchise, on account of color, was only passed by a vote of 20 to 18.

PERUVIAN GUANO SUBSTITUTE!

BAUGH'S

RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

Manufactured under the formula originated in 1854 and patented by

BAUGH & SONS,

SOLE PROPRIETORS, AT THE

Delaware River Chemical Works,

PHILADELPHIA, U. S. A.

This old established MANURE is manufactured from Bones that have not been burned or steamed, and it contains all their original organic matter. It is active in its operation, and is a fertilizer of great durability. It does not exhaust the soil like Peruvian Guano, but on the contrary permanently improves it.

Previous to 1861 it was introduced into the Southern States to considerable extent, and again in 1865, where it has been used with remarkable success upon Cotton, Corn, Tobacco, and all Crops.

A trial will convince any planter of its merits.—Pamphlets containing well-known Southern evidence furnished upon application to New York or Philadelphia offices.

Sold by Dealers in all the principal cities and towns throughout the United States and British Provinces.
